Our results of LiverSirA-RAP are produced by a new method named GC-MRAP, which is a modified RAP method [1]. The new method is nearly automatic and only a simple initialization inside the liver is needed. A paper describing the modifications is in progress.